HOW PRIVATE IS OUR PRIVACY?

Mitch Farbstein
Feith Enterprise

For over 20 years, Mitch Farbstein has helped establish Feith's Enterprise BPM and Records Management footprint as Vice President of Sales. Well versed in the field of technology, he began his career in data processing in 1978 and began focusing on ECM in 1986. He established the Records Management University for Feith in 2014. He holds BS and MS degrees in education/biology from Bucknell University, where he earned multiple votes for the 1971 Heisman Trophy, and was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1991.

Rod Ingram, Deputy City Attorney
City of Virginia Beach

Rod Ingram earned his undergraduate degree at the University of Virginia, and his J.D. at the College of William and Mary. Rod is the author of the chapter on the State and Local Government Conflict of Interests Act in the Handbook of Virginia Local Government Law, and he has served as both the President of the Local Government Attorneys of Virginia and as the Chair of the Local Government Section of the Virginia State Bar. He is recognized statewide as an expert in the Virginia Freedom of Information Act, and he has overseen the City's Freedom of Information office since its creation in 2003.

Samuel "Gene" Fishel
Senior Assistant Attorney
General/Chief of Computer Crimes

Gene Fishel has served as Senior Assistant Attorney General and Chief of the Computer Crime Section in the Virginia Attorney General's Office since 2007. He directs prosecutions of computer trespass, computer fraud, identity theft, and child exploitation cases. He serves as a Special Assistant United States Attorney across the state where he prosecutes computer crime cases in federal court. He also monitors organizations' compliance with Virginia's database breach notification laws, drafts legislation for the Virginia General Assembly, trains law enforcement and prosecutors statewide, and educates the public on issues involving computer crimes. Prior to joining the Attorney General's Office, he served as law clerk for the Second Judicial Circuit in Virginia Beach. He received his J.D. from Wake Forest University and a B.A., magna cum laude, from James Madison University.
